

Northwestern Homecoming “Come Back, Give Back: Continue the Legacy” Building Decorating Contest

The NWOSU Homecoming Committee is once again holding the annual decorating contest. We are shaking things up a bit and trying out some new Decorating Contest. Show your Ranger Pride and get into the spirit of homecoming by decorating the inside of your building and the exterior windows of your building for homecoming week! The winning entries will receive a free pizza party for their building.

This will be a team effort. Please pick one representative for the building and e-mail me with the name of the representative. I will be in direct contact with the building representatives for updates and to answer questions. The representative will be in charge of the building to ensure the building is being decorated for Homecoming!

The goal in having this decorating contest is to get the interior and exterior buildings decorated to show our Ranger Pride during Homecoming Week! We would like for people to know that we are having Homecoming if they walk onto campus by our decorations!

Two areas the judges will be looking at to decide the building winner include:

- Interior of building (doors/hallways/offices) and;
- Exterior of the building (windows or outdoor decorations)

Decorations should include this year's theme “Come Back, Give Back: Continue the Legacy”.
