Photo ID not confirmed:
ID is blurry, too small, not positioned properly, or does not include a picture

Photo ID not provided:
No ID provided

Reference materials:
Anything not specifically allowed by Org's Exam policy or Exam rules exceptions. In most cases there should be nothing on the student's work surface except their ID and computer related items, chargers, cables, etc... Example: A pen on the desk can be flagged (regardless of if paper is also visible)

Someone else in the room:
Any and all persons that may be in or passing through the exam area.

Talking aloud:
Any talking (including talking to oneself), mumbling, singing, reading questions aloud, etc....

TV or Radio:
TV or radio is on in the exam taker's area.

Using another computer:
Any computer that is visibly turned on, screen saver included, in the student's exam area whether the student uses it or not, will be flagged as Rules Violation. Students using the computer for anything at all will be flagged as "Suspicious".

Using telephone:
Use of telephone for any purpose (except calling support or staff/school/teacher), regardless of length of time will be flagged.

Other (Explain):
Violations not included in the above list

"Rules Violation" (someone walking through the room) is used when a rule was broken, but exam integrity is intact. "Suspicious" is used if it compromises the integrity of the exam (someone in the room giving answers to student).
