

Division of Business

AY 2017-2018

List of Degree Program Courses that highlight diversity

1. MGMT4343 Cross Cultural Management
2. ACCT4303 International Accounting
3. ACCT4363 Professional Ethics
4. GBUS3513 International Business
5. GBUS4933 Business Ethics
6. MRKT4113 International Marketing

Other activities or programs supported by Division Business or DOB Faculty.

- Accounting Internship with NW Oklahoma CASA, serving underserved and at risk children. Dr. Hawkins is her internship coordinator.
- Clay Dyer, physically handicapped (no arms & no legs, with a small stump for a right arm) keynote speaker (professional fisherman & motivational speaker) at the 2018 NWOSU Entrepreneur Seminar; spoke on overcoming physical and mental obstacles on the path to success.
- Drs. Gustafson & Stockmyer have been engaged in creating curriculum resources for the hearing impaired involving transcriptions of recorded classes.
- The entire Division of Business has international students who provide diverse viewpoints in all of our classes.
- The Division of Business faculty teach classes to the socially marginalized incarcerated inmates at several correctional facilities.
- The Division of Business faculty teach classes to many low socioeconomic status students who are first generation college students.
- Some of our Division of Business faculty travel internationally on a regular basis to achieve a broader diverse international perspective.
- Jana Walker and Dana Roark teach Accounting courses, the accounting profession is a male-dominated profession, 9:1 ratio.
- Students and faculty participate in the Study Abroad program, as students and sponsors.