

SECTION 7: GRADUATE COURSES

"SL" designates a course with a Service Learning component

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE AGRICULTURAL COURSES (AGRI)

5103 Agricultural Economics of Development

This course provides students with the basic theory and application of community economics. Emphasis will be placed on assisting a community with economic development efforts, analysis of providing community services, and business development, assessment, and retail trends analysis in rural communities. Graduate students will perform individual research projects.

AMERICAN STUDIES PROGRAM~GRADUATE OFFICE AMERICAN STUDIES COURSES (AMST)

5103 Introduction to American Studies

An introduction to the theories and methodologies employed in the field of American Studies. Students will use archival, ethnographic, visual, and printed texts to understand the ways in which qualitative research can be used to examine American society through an interdisciplinary approach. The course's primary focus will investigate the construction, maintenance, and transmission of cultural meaning.

5330 Thesis Writing

A research report. Problem, outline, and report will be directed by the student's graduate thesis committee.

5500 Internship

Participate in work activities at an approved museum, cultural organization, consulting firm, foundation, or company for elective credit. Approved by instructor. See Office of Graduate Studies for more information. Pre: AMST 5103.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNICATION MASS COMMUNICATION COURSES (MCOM)

5033 Principles of Advertising

A study of various media of advertising in connection with the distribution of goods/services and research methods utilized by advertisers. Pre: MCOM 3043 or permission of instructor.

5102 Desktop Publishing

Practical study of computer software used in the production of print publications. Emphasis is also placed on the legal and ethical considerations of desktop publication. Students will produce a broad range of projects. Pre: MCOM 2123 & 2222 or permission of instructor.

5103 News Editing

Students will participate in the practice of editing copy, writing headlines, and making up the pages of the newspaper. Concepts and theories of the editorial process will be analyzed. Students will seek out and critique scholarly journal articles concerning news editing issues. Pre: MCOM 2113 and 6 hours of English or permission of instructor.

5113 Mass Communication Law & Ethics

A study of legal principles that affect the mass media and the ethical considerations of media practitioners. Ethical philosophies will be analyzed. Concepts and theories of media law will also be analyzed. Students will seek out and critique scholarly journal articles concerning media legal and ethical issues. Pre: MCOM 2023, 2113, & 2123 or permission of instructor.

5123 Advanced Strategic Communication

A continuation of the study of specific public relations problems and opportunities; creation of instruments for public relations purposes; use of professional journals and other appropriate resources to research and further understand public relations. Pre: MCOM 3463 or permission of instructor.

5213 Business & Professional Communication

A study of the specific communication principles and methods for application in business and professional settings. Students will seek out professional journals to analyze and will critique articles to further their understanding of oral business communication. Emphasis will be placed on management styles, communication techniques, and organizational communication. Pre: SCOM 1113 or permission of instructor.

5222 Feature Writing

Planning, researching, and writing articles in feature story formats. Additionally, students will be required to critique published feature stories and submit articles to publications based on current industry standards. Pre: MCOM 2113 and six hours of English or permission of instructor.

5302 Media Promotion and Sales

Survey of sales and promotion functions within media industries. Promotion and sales management, techniques, planning, and ethical standards will be emphasized. Students will use scholarly journals to further their understanding of sales and promotions connected to media industries. Pre: MCOM 2023 & 2123 or permission of instructor.

5322 Media Convergence

The historical and modern perspective of media convergence will be studied. An emphasis on currently implemented techniques and future media convergence strategies will be addressed. Students will complete research projects related to course content. Pre: MCOM 2023, 2113, 2123, and 3113 or permission of instructor.

5422 Advanced Television Production

Techniques of television production. Operation of all studio and field equipment as well as serving in all capacities involved in the production of programs for training and for airing over the university's cable television facilities. Production of programs capable of airing in a professional market required. Pre: MCOM 3113 or permission of instructor.

5432 Introduction to Media Research

An introductory examination of a variety of qualitative and quantitative research techniques and their appropriateness for addressing particular issues in mass communication. Research proposals will be completed. Pre: MCOM 2123 and 3303 or permission of instructor.

5803 Broadcast Writing and Announcing

Writing and announcing for electronic media including news, sports, documentaries, interviews, commercial copy, and other types of scripts. Students will be required to research and assess contemporary broadcast issues. Pre: MCOM 2113 and six hours of English or permission of instructor.

SPEECH COURSES (SCOM)5013 Oral Interpretation (SL)

A study of the principles and techniques involved in the oral interpretation of prose, poetry, and dramatic literature. Presentation of interpretation material, analysis of presentations, and research concerning oral interpretation in addition to other course assignments are required.

5113 Advanced Speech Communication

A study of communication elements with practical application in oral presentations. Emphasis will be placed on audience analysis, extemporaneous speaking, and persuasive speaking. Research topics will focus on areas related to speech communication. Pre: SCOM 1113 or permission of instructor.

5213 Business & Professional Communication

A study of the specific communication principles and methods for application in business and professional settings. Students will seek out professional journals to analyze and critique articles to further their understanding of oral business communication. Emphasis will be placed on management styles, communication techniques, and organizational communication. Pre: SCOM 1113 or permission of instructor.

5403 Nonverbal Communication

Focuses on the nonverbal behaviors and relevant contextual cues associated with human communication such as physical behavior, distance, facial expression, eye contact, paralanguage, the physical environment, touch, and cultural variables. Communication properties and characteristics of cultural and social groups will be explored. Research and presentations are required for a deeper understanding of related content.

5603 Language and Speech Development

A study of the developmental processes in the acquisition of speech and language, factors which influence this development, methods of measuring speech and language skills, and theoretical models of communication development. Professional journals will be used to expand knowledge of course content.

5613 Small Group Communication

A study of small group dynamics designed to develop leadership skills and to facilitate decision-making in various group settings. Use of professional journals to research topics of small group communication and further understanding of course content.

5733 Communication Disorders

A survey of speech, language, and hearing disorders; their identification and treatment; and the roles of various professionals in the total habilitation/rehabilitation process. Use of case studies to apply course information. Use of professional journals to expand knowledge of communication disorders.

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH, FOREIGN LANGUAGE, & HUMANITIESENGLISH COURSES (ENGL) ~ NOTE: Student applications indicating an emphasis in English will be referred to the department for approval.*5103 Shakespeare

Advanced examination of the life and times of Shakespeare; the Shakespearean theatre; origin and development of Shakespeare's Histories and Tragedies; study of nine of Shakespeare's plays.

5163 Literary Criticism

An advanced study of the theories and approaches used in the evaluation of literature.

5173 English Usage

Intensive investigation into English grammar and diction.

5183 History of the English Language

Advanced study of the development of Modern English from Old English, showing its change from a highly inflected language to a language of few inflections.

5203 Contemporary Poetry

Advanced study of poetry in the present day.

5213 Nonfiction Prose

An advanced survey of present-day prose production with an emphasis on non-fiction works treating current ethnic and/or socio-political issues.

5263 20th and 21st Century British Novel

An advanced investigation into the development of the modern British novel, including Conrad, Golding, Lawrence, Orwell, Greene, Waugh, Huxley, Joyce, Woolf, Forster, and Maugham.

5273 20th and 21st Century American Novel

An advanced investigation into the development of the modern novel in America from 1900 to the present, with an emphasis on major novelists of the period.

5403 Restoration and Eighteenth Century English Literature

Selected works of major poetry and prose writers of the period such as Dryden, Pope, Swift, Johnson, etc.

5413 Popular Literature

A survey of major contributions to one genre of popular literature--science fiction, mystery, historical fiction, etc.--or film. May be repeated for credit when course content changes. Open to American Studies students only when offered as

"Popular Culture: The Western."

5433 Nineteenth Century American Novel

Advanced examination of the development of the novel in the United States during the nineteenth century.

5443 Introduction to Linguistics

An advanced study of the structure of language through syntax, morphology, phonetics, and phonology with application to structural and transformational grammars.

5463 American Literature

Intensive critical examination of specific selected American authors, including Melville, Hawthorne, Poe, Hemingway, Steinbeck, Faulkner, and others.

5503 Mythology

An advanced comparative study of world mythology with emphasis given to Western cultures and traditions such as Egyptian, Greek, Roman, Norse, and Celtic mythology; the historical development of mythology; and fundamental archetypal themes and motifs.

5523 Advanced Composition: Writing Theory

Intensive study of composition focusing on the principles of logic and rhetoric and their application to the analysis and production of written argumentative discourse; includes discussion of rhetorical strategies (Toulmin Paradigm, enthymeme) and heuristics (such as tagmemics, the Pentad, cubing and questioning) in the production of persuasive, informative, and interpretive written discourse.

5603 English Novel

Advanced study of the development of the English novel, including DeFoe, Richardson, Fielding, Smollet, Sterne, the Gothic Romance, Goldsmith, Burney, Austen, Scott, Dickens, Thackeray, the Brontes, Eliot, and Hardy.

5613 Creative Writing

Advanced examination of the genres of creative writing (particularly short fiction and poetry) with an emphasis on structure, characterization, and narrative voice and opportunities for student writing in these areas.

DEPARTMENT OF FINE ARTS
MUSIC COURSES (MUSI)

5013 Music Literature

A survey of the music literature in the area of the student's interest. Graduate level research and study are required.

5103 Survey Course in School Music Problems

Discussion and special attention to problems which arise in the teaching of music in grades one through twelve. Special emphasis will be given to contemporary procedures and materials.

5121 University Bands

Membership is open to graduate students with approval of the instructor. Depending upon the graduate student's area of focus, additional duties will be assigned involving the academic, administrative, and musical aspects of the University Band. These can include but are not limited to a major research project, rehearsing the band, conducting in performance, running sectionals, arranging music, and designing drill.

5122 Advanced Instrumentation

A survey of the four choirs of instruments and beginning orchestration. Arrangements will be made for various combinations of instruments.

5202 Advanced Theory

Approved subtitles will include serial technique, the avant garde, Schoenberg and his school, canon, and fugue. May be repeated with emphasis on additional study subjects.

5233 Music for Elementary Teachers

A study and practical application of solutions to problems involved in music education grades 1-6, with emphasis on the acquisition of skills necessary for successful teaching at any grade level. Pre: MUSI 4442 or equivalent.

5242 Advanced Analysis

Analysis of advanced techniques of form and composition with emphasis on contemporary music. Pre: MUSI 4013.

5252 Advanced Music Composition

A study of contemporary music composition techniques, including traditional techniques as well as synthesized sound and MIDI.

5262 The Enjoyment of Music

A survey of the contemporary musical scene, including radio, television, theater, and concert hall. Outstanding personalities, organizations, and centers of musical activity will be studied. This course is designed primarily as general education for graduate students.

5302 Music Composition I

The fundamentals of music composition including solo, duet, trio, quartet, and small ensemble composition. One major composition (choral or instrumental) is required.

5312 Music Composition II

Continuation of 5302 Music Composition I. One major composition (choral or instrumental) is required.

5322 Advanced Instrumental Conducting

A survey and analysis of materials and literature for conducting instrumental ensembles. Pre: MUSI 3112.

5332 Advanced Choral Conducting

A survey and analysis of materials and literature for conducting choral ensembles. Pre: MUSI 3202.

5343 Choral Materials

A study of material and techniques used in the organization, training, and conducting of choral ensembles in the secondary school.

5402 Musical Styles

A study and analysis of stylistic features of music of the various periods of music history.

- 5412 Music of the Renaissance Era
A survey of the polyphonic music of the 16th century and the development of the styles and forms of representative composers.
- 5422 Music of the Baroque Era
A survey of the music from 1600 to 1750 and of the development of the styles and forms of representative composers.
- 5432 Music of the Classic Era
A survey of the music of the Rococo period to 1827 and of the development of the styles and forms of representative composers.
- 5442 Music of the Romantic Era
A survey of the music of the nineteenth century, including the development of the art song, opera, piano forms, and other instrumental music.
- 5452 Music of the 20th Century
A survey of the late nineteenth century music styles breaking away from the traditional tonal system to the new compositional techniques of twentieth century music. Includes representative music literature from Debussy to the present.
- 5503 Teaching Music Literature and Theory
A study of the techniques, procedures, and materials for teaching music literature and theory, including an analysis of contemporary texts.
- 5513 Music Supervision and Administration in the Public Schools
Preparation for the position of music supervisor. This course deals with all aspects of music supervision and administration, including budgets, schedules, faculty evaluation, instruction and curriculum improvement, and public relations.
- 5523 Music Research Techniques
A survey of bibliographical material, library resources, and research techniques necessary for graduate music study. Prerequisite before writing thesis.
- 5530 Graduate Recital
Satisfactory completion of public recital in major performing discipline. Required of all music majors. Pre: Graduate standing, successful pre-recital hearing, and permission of applied instructor.
- 5531 Graduate Instruction in Brass Instruments
To learn educational techniques necessary to teach and perform on the trumpet, horn, trombone, euphonium, and tuba. Graduate students will assist in the instruction of MUSI 1531/Undergraduate Brass Methods and MUSI 3531/Advanced Undergraduate Brass Methods. They will delve deeply into both traditional and alternative means of teaching and have additional research projects in topics that can include the history of woodwind instruments or teaching techniques. In lieu of a paper, a recital on a secondary instrument is a possibility depending upon the student's career aspirations and interests.
- 5543 Tests and Measurements in Music
A survey of the various types of tests available for evaluation of musical achievement.
- 5553 Teaching Orff and Kodaly in Public Schools
A study of the techniques, materials, and procedures of the Orff and Kodaly methods for teaching music in the public schools.
- 5561 Instruction in Woodwing Instruments
This class will learn the educational techniques necessary to teach woodwind instruments. They will also gain the technical ability to be a proficient performer on the flute, oboe, clarinet, bassoon, and saxophone.
- 5602 Marching Band Techniques
A study of various styles of marching and the techniques of parades and football shows. The course includes an examination and comparison of the various methods of charting.
- 5611 Accompanying
Development of piano skills in accompanying solos and ensembles. Emphasis is placed on sight-reading, technical skills, and the ability to follow a conductor or soloist. A laboratory session will include accompanying vocal and/or instrumental solos and ensembles within the department. Permission of the instructor required. May be repeated for elective credit.

Private Instruction

Private instruction in voice and instruments at the graduate level. Pre: permission of instructor.

- 5600 Voice
- 5610 Piano
- 5620 Organ
- 5630 Oboe
- 5640 Cello
- 5650 Trumpet
- 5710 Saxophone
- 5720 Clarinet
- 5730 Bassoon
- 5740 Percussion
- 5750 Viola
- 5760 Bass Viol
- 5810 Baritone
- 5820 Cornet
- 5830 Flute
- 5840 Trombone
- 5850 Violin
- 5860 French Horn
- 5870 Applied Conducting
- 5890 Tuba

THEATRE COURSES (TCOM)

5423 Principles of Directing

Study of script analysis and the principles, methods, and techniques of directing. Student directs class assignments. Additional directing assignments required.

5443 Theatre Pedagogy

A student is required to teach concurrently a 16-week theatre course on the public school or college level.

5733 History of Musical Theatre

The study of musical theatre from its inception: the North American influence to the 21st century. Particular attention is given to selected musicals and their social and cultural contexts, and to the dynamic interaction and changing relationship between performance, audience, and society.

5862 Children's Theatre (SL)

Laboratory experience in children's theatre. Directing and assisting in production of children's plays. Research concerning creative dramatics and children's theatre required.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH & SPORTS SCIENCE HEALTH EDUCATION COURSES (HED)

5203 Facility Management

This course is designed to provide an overall understanding of the comprehensive process to design athletic facilities as well as the proper management procedures to operate athletic and recreational facilities effectively. Students will be exposed to a variety of athletic and sport facility design and operational conceptions that will provide a basic understanding for future general use in their roles as administrators and teachers.

5500 Internship

In this capstone practicum, candidates will apply their knowledge, skills, and dispositions regarding the importance of preparing a presentation for professional personnel. The internship provides significant opportunities for candidates to synthesize and apply the knowledge and to practice the skills identified in previous classes including, but not limited to, supervision, finance, marketing, legal implications, and facility management. The candidate will experience substantial, sustained, standards-based work in real settings, planned and guided cooperatively by the university and the school personnel.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION & RECREATION COURSES (PE&R)

5503 Legal Liabilities

This course is designed for the potential Sports Administrator candidate to become knowledgeable in tort liability, product liability, legal terminology, and the basic principles that govern the legal ramifications of his/her administrative and constitutional responsibilities. A scientific study of the mechanical and anatomical fundamentals of human motion.

5543 Readings--Sports Finance & Marketing

This individual study will be comprised of a research project consisting of contemporary marketing principles, current issues, analysis and/or pertinent problems/solutions in Sports Finance and Marketing.

5562 Recreational Leadership

This course covers the organization and leadership of recreational programs. The graduate candidate will develop a comprehensive recreational program for either Common Education or University-level Education. The graduate candidate will research an area and will present their findings in a comprehensive presentation.

5603 Kinesiology/Motor Learning

A scientific study of the mechanical and anatomical fundamentals of human motion. Pre: Biol: 3184.

5622 Organization & Management of Intramural Sports

This course will cover the organization and management of intramural sports and games. Graduate candidates will study the history of intramurals and will research implementation of an intramural program. The graduate candidate will develop a comprehensive intramural program through research by identifying different components of said programs to include in their own research.

5672 Athletic Administration

This course is designed to provide a comprehensive educational background in athletic administration for the purpose of effectively preparing students to serve as athletic administrators in collegiate, public school, or sports related businesses. Students will be provided detailed information concerning an assortment of athletic and sport specific topics within the administrative realm that will establish a knowledge base in their preparation of becoming future athletic and sports administrators.

5693 Physiology of Exercise

The physiological changes and associated phenomena that occur within the body as a result of exercise.

DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHOLOGY PSYCHOLOGY COURSES (PSYC)

5013 Ethics

An introduction and overview to current standards of ethical practice for professional counselors. Ethics in counseling practice and effective methods for addressing ethical dilemmas and issues in the counseling setting will be covered. Legal requirements that affect ethical dilemmas will also be addressed.

5023 Advanced Substance Abuse Counseling

Identification, evaluation, and description of the theories of counseling as they relate to substance abuse counseling. The 12-step method is also introduced as a self-help treatment modality. Methods and procedures of the counseling process, an introduction to the dynamics of the counselor-counselee relationship, techniques related to substance abuse counseling, and the use of assessment tools in substance abuse counseling are also presented.

5133 Assessment: Achievement, Personality, and Cognitive Assessment

Identification, evaluation, and administration of individual and group tests used for measuring achievement and cognitive abilities in counseling and/or teaching situations. Psychometric properties of testing are also covered. Prereq: 5173 (except Education students)

5173 Statistics for Assessment

Identification, evaluation, and administration of the methods and techniques utilized to assess human behavior, focusing on measures of personality. Measurements, statistics, tests, and research methodology are related to analysis of human behavior.

5183 Human Growth and Development

Study of the developmental, psychological, and sociological forces that shape the behavior of children, adolescents, and adults through old age. Focus includes child, adolescent, and adult guidance techniques utilized by educators and counselors, including cognitive, behavioral, and social characteristics.

5203 Family Systems

This course examines the basic historical counseling theories commonly utilized by counseling practitioners who work with families. It examines the qualities and characteristics of effective counselors as well as ethical guidelines for the effective practice of psychotherapy with families.

5213 Advanced Abnormal Psychology

A study of human behavior as it relates to maturation, self-concept, personality traits, psychological needs, and pathological conditions. Pre: PSYC 4113.

5253 Intervention Strategies for Counselors

This is a course designed to help school counselors prepare for crisis situations. Knowledge of the expected kinds of emergencies that can arise as well as strategies for dealing with crisis situations is covered.

5283 Addiction Studies - Advanced

An intensive course in the application of knowledge of academics, theories, and skills to the actual practice of counseling in addictions. In this course, students are introduced to the different facilities, boards, knowledge, and practical based seminars. Students are encouraged to develop marketing strategies for their practice as well as to develop a supportive network from which to seek the advice of other professionals.

5293 Advanced Psychopharmacology

This course is designed to provide students with a working knowledge of various psychotropic drug categories including legal/illegal drugs and alcohol. Students will learn concepts related to drug effects, mechanisms and sites of function, drug interactions, addiction, tolerance, and abuse.

5330 Thesis Writing

A research report. Problem, outline, and report will be directed by the student's graduate thesis committee.

5353 Addiction and the Family--Theory

Examination of family counseling theories related to the ways in which drug and alcohol dependency affects family functioning and dynamics.

5363 Addictions and Family Counseling

The study and application of counseling methods and techniques used to improve family functioning when one or more family members are drug or alcohol dependent.

5500 Practicum (MCP) (SL)

Supervised experience pertaining to individual graduate programs. Pre: PSYC 5803, 5863, 5893.

5513 Advanced Adolescent Guidance

The goal of this course is to enhance the communication skills and change strategies to help adolescents with their unique problems. A theoretical understanding of adolescent behavior is included. The influence of parents and the art of parenting is examined.

5613 Advanced Child Guidance

The goal of this course is to enhance the communication skills and change strategies to help children with their unique problems. A theoretical understanding of children's behavior is included. The influence of parents and the art of parenting is examined.

5623 Advanced Personality

An intensive introduction to the study of current personality theories; analysis of the organized dynamic behavior of the individual.

5803 Counseling Strategies and Techniques

Methods and procedures descriptive of the counseling process with emphasis on the dynamics of the counselor-counselee relationship, interviewing techniques, and the use of test results in counseling. Pre: PSYC 5863.

5812 Group Counseling

Group counseling processes are examined from various theoretical approaches. A critical examination is made from the practitioner's concerns and the selection of an appropriate group method. Pre: PSYC 5863 or concurrent enrollment.

5813 Group Counseling

Group counseling processes are examined from various theoretical approaches. A critical examination is made from the practitioner's concerns and the selection of an appropriate group method. Pre: PSYC 5872 or concurrent enrollment.

5823 Multicultural Counseling

An introduction to the philosophies and principles necessary for counseling individuals from diverse social, ethnic, and cultural backgrounds. A major focus will be on barriers to effective cross-cultural counseling and ways to overcome those barriers. Characteristics of different sociocultural and ethnic groups that could affect the counseling process will be included.

5832 Career Education

A comprehensive study of the world of work; of the many kinds and sources of occupational and educational information and how this information may be located, evaluated, and utilized as part of a comprehensive guidance program.

5833 Career Education

A comprehensive study of the world of work; of the many kinds and sources of occupational and educational information and how this information may be located, evaluated, and utilized as part of a comprehensive guidance program.

5863 Individual Counseling

Theories of counseling and their utilization in practice; the nature of problems of greatest concern to clients; and the use of various tools and techniques of counseling which may be utilized by counselors.

5872 Individual Counseling

Theories of counseling and their utilization in practice; the nature of problems of greatest concern to clients; and the use of various tools and techniques of counseling which may be utilized by counselors.

5893 Supervised Experience in Counseling

The development of skills in the application of theories and techniques of counseling including the utilization of interviewing procedures, appraisal instruments, educational and occupational information, and related activities and materials. Pre: PSYC 5803 and 5863.

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL SCIENCESCRIMINAL JUSTICE COURSES (CJUS)*5263 Public Service Leadership

This course provides an overview of the characteristics and styles of leadership as they are applied to the public sector. Principles of strategic planning, programmatic development and implementation within the public realm are reviewed as they relate to consensus building and collaborative leadership in federal, state, and local agencies.

HISTORY COURSES (HIST)5263 World History Since 1945

An examination of world developments from the end of World War II to the present. This course focuses on the establishment and decline of a bi-polar world and the corresponding adaptations of various nations and regions.

5023 The Middle Ages: 500-1500

A study of Europe from the fall of Rome to the High Renaissance and the dawn of the Early Modern Era, emphasizing the formation of western society during the Dark Ages and the great achievements of the High Middle Ages.

5113 U.S. Diplomatic History

An examination of the U.S. emergence as a world power, emphasizing its empire development, involvement in two world wars, leadership in the cold war, and current relations with major countries.

5123 Oklahoma History and Government

A survey of the state's history and government from pre-history to the present, with emphasis upon developments affecting native Americans and the evolution of modern Oklahoma.

5133 Ancient Greece

Detailed study of the social, political, and intellectual life of the Greeks; influences of Greek philosophy and culture upon modern civilization.

5143 Rome

Origin and expansion of Rome, its political and cultural life, including rise of Christianity, technical achievements, government and law, and the enduring influence of Rome on the civilization of western Europe.

5203 The American West

An examination of the westward movement in the U.S., the significance of the frontier in the nation's history, and the role of the region in building the nation.

5213 American Colonial Period

Study of American history from discovery to 1783, with an emphasis on the political, cultural, and economic experiences that produced the United States.

5223 The United States: 1783-1840

An historical analysis of the founding of the U.S. and the subsequent development of constitutional government, the contributions of major leaders, and the emergence of new political and sectional tensions.

5233 The United States: 1841-1877

An examination of U.S. history from the end of the Jacksonian era through Reconstruction. The course focuses on reform movements and westward expansion in the 1840s and 1850s, the Civil War, and Reconstruction policies.

5293 Europe: 1815-1945

The course provides a comparative analysis of the political, cultural, social, and economic transformations as they developed in Europe, starting with an assessment of Napoleon's historical legacy and ending at the conclusion of World War II.

5313 The United States: 1933 to Present

An examination of U.S. history from the New Deal to the present. The course focuses on the expanding role of government in the economy, domestic life and world affairs, the Civil Rights movement, Watergate scandal, and broad changes in American society.

5323 England to 1688

Political, economic, constitutional, and cultural development of the British Isles from the earliest times to the Glorious Revolution.

5333 England Since 1688

Political, economic, constitutional, and cultural development of the British Isles from the Glorious Revolution to present.

5402 Historic Preservation (SL)

Shaped by a concern for the needs of both history students and interested community members, this class will overview the Historic Preservation Movement in the United States, introduce government policies and regulations, focus on how to identify the style of historic properties, and provide participants with the opportunity to engage in a service-learning activity. Students will move from an exploration of what this movement is and how it developed to hands-on investigations of American architectural styles and other selected projects. This class will also make connections between Historic Preservation and Public History.

5412 Museum Studies

In an effort to introduce both history students and interested community members to the world of museums and the professions associated with them, this class will overview the history of museums, explore museum departments and activities, and focus on the roles and obligations of museums. Students will move from an exploration of what these institutions are and how they developed to hands-on investigation of collection documentation, preservation, museum ethics, and educational interpretation. This class will also make connections between Museums and Public History.

5413 Renaissance and Reformation

A survey of the economic, political, social, religious, and cultural developments in Western Europe from 1270 to 1650.

5422 Public History

Public History is about applying the knowledge, skills, and methods of traditional history outside the world of academia. Public Historians write the histories of communities or corporations; they operate state historical societies; they help to develop historic preservation projects; they collect oral interviews; they create museum exhibits; they prepare genealogies; they participate in policy planning, and much more. Created for history students as well as interested community members, this course will investigate Public History, moving from an exploration of the definition of this discipline to concrete examples of the issues and opportunities involved within this important field of historical work.

5433 Historical Methods

An examination of historical methods and standards for research and writing, culminating in the writing of an historical paper. Recommended for history majors.

5523 Russian History to 1917

An examination of the gradual and often tragic development of the Russian state, ending with the 1917 revolution that overthrew the tsarist regime.

5563 History of Modern Germany Since 1871

This course examines the creation of the modern German state in 1871 and its various historical transformations in the heart of Europe. It also assesses critical problems in modern German history with an emphasis on unification and the age of Bismarck, the First World War, cultural and intellectual ferment, Hitler and the Nazi period, and postwar East and West Germany.

5583 History of Middle and Far East Asia

This course examines the history of Asia, including the Middle East, India, and Far East, from the early Middle Ages to the modern era. It seeks to comprehend the complex array of political, social, economic, and religious problems of a vast region growing in global significance.

5603 History of Economics in the United States

Historical perspectives on the growth of economic sectors of agriculture, industry, commerce and finance. Analysis of the interaction of the economic and government sectors in America.

5613 Native American History

An examination of the various American Indian tribes, emphasizing their cultural characteristics, resistance to domination, contributions to American society, and their place in the contemporary U.S.

5623 The United States: 1877-1932

An examination of U.S. history from the Gilded Age through the Great Depression. Emphasis is placed upon the scope and consequences of economic and population growth, Progressive Era reforms, increasing involvement in world affairs, social upheaval of the 1920s, and the economic collapse that ended that decade.

5633 History of Modern Russia

The course examines the creation of the Soviet state. It also assesses the impact of the various dictators who ruled the nation from 1917 until 1991. Post-communist Russia is also studied by looking at the strategies of the Russian government as it endeavors to establish and maintain political and economic stability.

5663 Survey of Latin American History

This course presents an overview of the history of Latin America from the Pre-Columbian civilizations to the present. Emphasis will be placed on understanding the development of diverse cultural, political, and economic institutions of the region.

5723 African American History

An examination of the Black experience in the U.S. since 1619, emphasizing slavery, emancipation, patterns of segregation and discrimination, the Civil Rights movement, Black contributions to American society, and current conditions.

GEOGRAPHY COURSE (GEOG)

5163 Political Geography

Fundamentals of political geography; survey of geo-politics; study of the world's critical areas.

POLITICAL SCIENCE COURSES (POLS)

5113 Constitutional Studies

This course will explore the connections between the U.S. Constitution and the citizens it serves. It will encourage students to assess critically the ways in which the U.S. Constitution plays a relevant role as to how government functions and impacts various things such as federalism, the courts, civil rights, etc. The course will also seek to explore the philosophy behind the U.S. Constitution and to consider the implications for public administrators.

5123 Advanced Political Theory

This course will consider the ideas and writings of important political theorists and their contributions to public administration. The types of theorists covered will include a broad range of writers from Plato to John Rawls. The ideas of these theorists will be examined and considered in light of how their ideas have impacted public administration.

5133 Comparative Government

This is a graduate course designed to offer students an introduction to the main concepts of comparative politics and wide coverage of major countries around the world. Specifically, this course compares and contrasts the countries of the United States, Great Britain, France, Germany, Japan, India (consolidated democracies) and Iran and China (authoritarian regimes). Included is an emphasis upon the historic formation of the state, the major institutions of governance and policymaking, the processes of representation and participation, and the major issues that confront the each state.

5153 International Relations

This is a graduate course that examines international relations, political and economic nationalism, minorities, imperialism, international organization, settlement of international disputes, and the preservation and promotion of peace.

5213 Public Policy Studies

This course will ask students to consider the reasons why government chooses to act or not act on particular issues, problems, and situations. It will present various theories and concepts regarding the primary issues associated with public policy, such as problem definition, the ways in which policies are generated, as well as policy implementation and evaluation.

5223 Elements of Public Administration

Students in this course will consider the essential aspects and theories most central to public administration. A few of the topics to be covered include (but will not be limited to) organizational theory, budget and finance issues, and personnel management.

5253 Federal, State, and Local Relations

The study of government in the state and its subdivisions; includes municipal governments and municipal problems, administration and problems of organization, control, personnel, and finance in these areas. Will be taught from the reference point of the Federal Government and its policies and controls.

5263 Public Service Leadership

This course provides an overview of the characteristics and styles of leadership as they are applied to the public sector. Principles of strategic planning, programmatic development and implementation within the public realm are reviewed as they relate to consensus building and collaborative leadership in federal, state, and local agencies.

5303 The Federal Legislative Branch

This course will examine the role of Congress as a major actor in the federal government. Special emphasis will be directed toward the functions of Congress as they relate to issues such as coercive federalism and laws that tend to impact state governments heavily and thus play a major role in terms of public administration.

5313 The Federal Executive Branch

This course will focus upon the executive authority and the role that it plays in terms of serving as the nation's leading branch of public administration. In this regard, it will examine the role of the president, the cabinet, the vice president, and other relevant actors in the executive branch.

SOCIOLOGY COURSES (SOC)

5113 Cultural Anthropology

This course provides an exploration and analysis of the concept of culture; development of culture from a global perspective; ethnographical and ethnological bases for cross-cultural comparisons; overview and discussion of cultural change over time; and cultural diffusion across cultures.

5123 Social Gerontology

An overview of the societal forces that shape the lives of older citizens of America. Included will be an examination of the classic theories of aging, the major factors associated with aging, programmatic planning for health, wellness, finances, living environments, and retirement for older citizens.

5133 Rural Sociology

This course provides an analysis of the issues and problems confronting rural communities and populations in the United States and the disparities which exist between urban and rural areas. At the graduate level, a special emphasis is placed on understanding federal and state grant programs' impact on units of local government in the provision of social, economic, public safety, and health services in rural regions.

5203 Social Theory

An overview of social theories of representative social thinkers and systems as they relate to the development of formalized social thought and sociology.

5263 Public Service Leadership

This course provides an overview of the characteristics and styles of leadership as they are applied to the public sector. Principles of strategic planning, programmatic development and implementation within the public realm are reviewed as they relate to consensus building and collaborative leadership in federal, state, and local agencies.

5303 Social Psychology

This course relates various social psychological theories to human development and social interaction within a social context. The relationship between the individual, groups, and society are reviewed and evaluated. Culturally significant normative behaviors are also reviewed.

DIVISION OF EDUCATION EDUCATION COURSES (EDUC)

5010 Graduate Study Seminar

An introduction to graduate study, including policies and procedures of the Graduate Studies programs. The seminar will introduce Master of Education students to the Aurora Learning Community Association's web-based assessment system. Pre: None. Required during the first semester of graduate work.

5013 Introduction to Research

A systematic analysis of education and counseling problems, techniques of collection and interpretation of data, and the reporting of results. Requirements include the writing of one significant paper in the area of one's area of specialization. A required core course for the M.Ed. degree and for the MCP degree. Pre-req.: Graduate level statistics class (may be taken concurrently) for MCP students.

5023 Portfolio Development

All National Board assessments consist of two major parts: the portfolio entries and the assessment center exercises. Candidates are asked to put together the portfolio according to specifications developed by the National Board. The portfolio consists of several different entries, each of which asks for direct evidence of some aspect of the teacher's work and an analytical reflective commentary on that evidence. Teachers are required to describe, analyze, explain, and reflect on their practice. In addition to completing the classroom-based entries, candidates document their work outside the classroom with families and the larger community and with colleagues and the larger profession. A good portfolio reflects the standards and provides evidence of a teacher's level of accomplishment. This course is designed to orient students who are candidates for National Board Certification with the specifications of the portfolio and the NBPTS standards. SEE "COURSE RESTRICTIONS," Section 5.

5033 National Board Examination Preparation

All National Board assessments consist of two major parts: the portfolio entries and the assessment center exercises. The assessment center component of the process consists of assessment exercises that are focused on a candidate's content knowledge. Candidates are responsible for content and pedagogical knowledge across the full age-range of a selected certificate area (and specialty area, if applicable). This course is designed to prepare students who are candidates for National Board Certification in the appropriate content and pedagogical knowledge for their area of specialty. SEE "COURSE RESTRICTIONS," Section 5.

5093 Curriculum and Instruction for Special Learners

Students will investigate the instructional needs and curricula essential to the education of the exceptional learner. Attention will also be directed toward instructional materials, objectives, and strategies appropriate for multicultural instructional settings. Pre: Permission of Associate Dean of School of Education.

5103 Curriculum in Schools

Each student will develop a detailed description of objectives, courses, and course content in his/her respective specialty areas which meet federal and state policies. Students will utilize a systems approach identifying objectives, developing processes to achieve objectives, evaluating achievement of objectives, and developing and implementing remedial strategies, techniques, and approaches. Pre: Permission of Associate Dean of School of Education.

5113 Early Childhood Family and Community Relations

This course prepares early childhood professionals to establish relationships with families through sensitivity to differences in family structures and social and cultural backgrounds. Candidates will learn to connect families with a range of family-oriented services within the community and will help develop good habits and attitudes regarding health, safety, and nutrition of young children.

5123 Individual Intelligence Testing (Woodcock-Johnson) Intensive practice in the administration and interpretation, including test write-ups, of the Woodcock-Johnson Intelligence Scale. The Slosson, Peabody, and other measures of intelligence will be examined.

5203 Educational Practices

A study of the major philosophies of education which have influenced education from historical times; a study of the development of public education; sociological problems of contemporary times and the implications of the foregoing on curriculum development. Recommended practices for developing curriculum to meet current rules, regulations, laws, and policies. A required core course for most M. Ed. degree options.

5212 Psychology of Teaching

Teaching strategies are examined as they relate to the process of learning and the characteristics of the learner. Individual differences due to cultural or ethnic background, handicaps, special talents, and cognitive style are given special consideration. A required core course for most M.Ed. degree options.

5222 Advanced Teaching Methods

Accomplished teachers are able to set high and appropriate goals for student learning, to connect worthwhile learning experiences to those goals, and to articulate the connections between the goals and the experiences. Furthermore, accomplished teachers can analyze classroom interactions, student work products, and their own actions and plans in order to reflect on their practice and continually renew and reconstruct their goals and strategies. This course uses the standards established by the National Board for Professional Teaching Standard as a basis for enhancing the knowledge and skills of experienced teachers to ensure that they become accomplished teachers.

5223 Methods and Techniques of Individualizing Instruction

Strategies, techniques, and methods of structuring curriculum and instruction to accommodate learner needs. Students will develop skills in organizing programs for Individualized Educational Programs for all students.

5243 Remediation of Mathematical Disabilities

Identification of specific learning disabilities in school mathematics. Procedures for remediation. Completion of a case study.

5263 Historical and Theoretical Perspectives of Special Education

This course will provide graduate students an opportunity to examine the basic concepts of individual diversity as well as the historical development of special education. The issue of disability will be studied within the various contexts in which the individual learner develops. The social systems perspective will include a review of the variations in beliefs, traditions, and values across cultures and will emphasize the subtle factors effecting the relationship involving child, family, school, and community in recognition of the development of the whole child; the changes which maltreatment, neglect, and abuse impose upon children and families will be an issue of study. Another focus of study will include the theoretical and philosophical basis which provide the underpinnings for current practices in special education. Current trends regarding student and parent rights, due process and legal issues, and issues in definition and identification procedures will also be investigated through a case studies approach.

5273 Language Literacy and Culture

This course will explore the social-cultural perspectives related to the role of language as it relates to literate behaviors, cognition, and action in learning contexts. Aspects of language use within various learning contexts and its relationship to literate processes will be explored. Emphasis will be placed upon the role of academic, technical, and everyday discourse in understanding the interrelationships among teaching, learning, knowledge, and culture.

5283 Literacy Assessment

Analysis of assessment instruments, primarily related to reading difficulties. Specific current reading assessments will be studied. Pre: Permission of Associate Dean of School of Education.

5313 Children's Literature

This course focuses on the importance of children's literature in the curriculum through an extensive reading and evaluation of literary genres, authors, illustrators, critiques, awards, and literary elements appropriate for PK-grade 8 children. Application of literacy instruction and available resources to engage and motivate students.

5330 Thesis Writing

A research report. Problem, outline, and report will be directed by the student's graduate thesis committee.

5352 Behavior Intervention Strategies

An analysis of behavior management through exploration of the concerns for school discipline by examining human behavior, needs, motives, and controls. Study of the ethics and the consequences of the use of different approaches of behavior management will be examined. Multicultural concerns as well as the needs of exceptional children will be included.

5373 Curriculum Development for Students with Mild/Moderate Disabilities

Graduate students will acquire the conceptual and technical tools to enable them to modify curriculum and instruction for learners with mild/moderate disabilities. There will be an emphasis on instructional and remedial methods, techniques, and curriculum materials. The emphases will be the development of motor, cognitive, academic, social, language, effective, career, and functional life skills for individuals with mild/moderate disabilities, including mild/moderate learning disabilities, mild/moderate emotional/behavioral disorders, and mild/moderate mental retardation. The course will also cover life skill instruction relevant to independent, community, and personal living and employment. Ethnic and cultural perspectives influencing the relationship among families, schools, and communities as related to effective instruction for individuals with exceptional learning needs will be emphasized.

5383 Leadership in Special Education

This course is designed to assist the graduate student in acquiring an understanding of the roles and responsibilities of the learning specialist. Students will investigate the professional relationship of the learning specialist to other professionals. Students will explore the relationship of professionals in special education to persons at all levels (PK-12) with mild/moderate disabilities and their families. The course will emphasize leadership, professionalism, and ethical considerations regarding responsibilities in the areas of relationships, conferencing, record keeping, confidentiality, teaming, and advocacy. Areas of study will also include the CEC Code of Ethics and Standards for Professional Practice.

5392 Clinical Procedures for Teaching Students with Severe/Profound Disabilities

Graduate students will learn the process for making decisions with general educators, learners, and their parents regarding the teaching of academics so that academic skills will contribute meaningfully to the learner's life. The course will examine age appropriate and functional skills instruction based on the adaptive skills of students with mental retardation/developmental disabilities. Students will utilize research-supported instructional strategies and practices, including the functional embedded skills approach, community-based instruction, task analysis, multi-sensory, and concrete/manipulative techniques. The course will emphasize culturally responsive functional life skills relevant to independence in the community, personal living, and employment, including accessing public transportation, cooking, shopping, laundry, functional reading, and sexuality. Students will explore the use of integrated community and adult service agencies.

5403 Advanced Course in Developmental Reading - Primary Level

Analysis of sequential growth in reading from the preschool level through the early elementary years. Examination of the reading process and instructional procedures. Pre: Permission of the Associate Dean of the School of Education.

5413 Advanced Course in Developmental Reading - Intermediate/Secondary

Examination of the developmental reading curriculum at intermediate, middle school, and secondary levels, including evaluation of teaching methods and materials. Pre: Permission of the Associate Dean of the School of Education.

5423 Foundations of Literacy

This course is designed as an elective course to provide the theoretical background and instructional strategies of literacy instruction by examining phonemic awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary, comprehension, and writing as well as to develop instructional strategies and concepts to support diverse needs of students, to assess and analyze student literacy learning, and to plan and reflect upon literacy instruction.

5433 Diagnostic and Correction Techniques in Reading

Diagnosis of reading disabilities are conducted and remedial measures are recommended. Includes methods and materials for the establishment of appropriate reading levels. Specific current reading assessments will be administered, scored, and educational goals will be written for specific instructional needs. Pre: EDUC 5283 and Permission of the Associate Dean of the School of Education.

5453 Clinical Procedures in Reading

Candidates will apply information gathered from diagnostic procedures to plan and implement remediation for an individual student. Knowledge of inhibiting psychological, intellectual, emotional, social, cultural, and educational factors which may contribute to reading failure will be utilized. Pre: EDUC 5433 and Permission of the Associate Dean of the School of Education.

5500 Internship for Educational Leadership

In this capstone practicum, candidates will apply their knowledge, skills, and dispositions in field-based experiences related to building-level principalship. In collaboration with the mentor administrator, the candidate will take a leadership role in the administration of a school site with emphasis upon the areas of curriculum, personnel, school organization, legal aspects, and finance. Pre: Permission from Associate Dean of School of Education.

5500 Practicum

In this capstone practicum, candidates will apply their knowledge, skills, and dispositions regarding the importance to prepare a presentation for professional service to the degree that is applicable. Pre: Permission from Associate Dean of School of Education.

5503 Curricular and Supervisory Problems in Reading

Designed to aid reading specialists in interrelating the various aspects of the reading program. Explores the scope and sequence of the reading curriculum; innovative methods and materials; important reading research; and role(s) of the reading specialist. Also considers how to evaluate or develop reading programs and how to interpret the reading program to others. Pre: Permission of the Associate Dean of the School of Education.

5513 Nature and Needs of the Gifted

Study of characteristics, needs, and means of identifying gifted and talented individuals, consideration of problems of personal, educational, and social development.

5523 Educational Procedures for the Gifted

Strategies for the education of gifted individuals, pre-kindergarten through grade twelve. Methods of assessment, program planning to meet individual needs, techniques for developing higher cognitive skills (including techniques for inquiry, simulation, and problem solving). Exploration of various programs and administrative arrangements currently in use in schools as well as other related issues.

5532 Practicum in Remediation of Learning Problems I

Supervised experience in instructional procedures for students at the primary level; includes instruction of individual, small groups, and/or whole classes with diverse populations in specific reading strategies. Pre: EDUC 5403 or may be taken concurrently with EDUC 5403 and Permission of the Associate Dean of the School of Education.

5533 Early Childhood Development and Learning

This course prepares early childhood professionals to use knowledge of how children develop and learn to provide opportunities that support the physical, social, emotional, language, cognitive, and aesthetic development of all young children from birth through age eight. This course also provides knowledge of how students differ in their development and prepares future teachers to apply knowledge of cultural, linguistic, and disabilities to political, social, and family contexts. This course also includes five (5) hours of observation of young children in Head Start, child care centers, and/or home daycares.

5542 Practicum in Remediation of Learning Problems II

Supervised experience in instructional procedures for students at the intermediate/secondary level; includes instruction of individual, small groups, and/or whole classes with diverse populations in specific reading strategies. Pre: EDUC 5413 or may be taken concurrently with EDUC 5413 and Permission of the Associate Dean of the School of Education.

5543 Early Childhood Curriculum Implementation

This course prepares early childhood professionals to use knowledge of how children develop and learn to provide opportunities that support the physical, social, emotional, language, cognitive, and aesthetic development of all young children from birth through age eight. The course also provides knowledge of cultural and linguistic disabilities to political, social, and family contexts. This course also includes five (5) hours of observation of young children in Head Start, child care centers, and/or home daycares.

5553 Methods and Materials in the Education of the Gifted

Consideration of the most appropriate instructional strategies and materials to be utilized with the gifted, placing emphasis on the designing of materials and development of appropriate curricular units. Techniques are used for individualizing instruction.

5583 Diagnosis and Assessment

This course is designed to provide students with a practical and concrete understanding of the assessment process. Students will investigate the specific strengths, weaknesses, and procedures required to implement and interpret both informal and formal assessment instruments. The selection criteria for assessment tools and diagnostic instruments will be examined. Issues regarding the impact of cultural diversity and ethnic bias upon the assessment process will be investigated. Students will consider the relationship between assessment, placement, and instructional decisions regarding the individual needs of special learners. Ethical concerns relating to assessment and the legal provisions and regulations of the assessment process will be studied. Students will be required to research current topics involving assessment issues.

5602 Early Childhood Assessment

This course will cover developmentally appropriate methods of assessment of the young child. It will offer the future ECE teacher different methods of conducting naturalistic assessment and research. Students will complete twenty (20) formal and informal child, group, or program assessments during ten (10) hours of observation.

5623 Leadership

This course will examine the role of the superintendent, the nature and importance of leadership, the traits, motives and characteristics of leaders, the different styles of leadership (charismatic, transformational, etc.), and the behavior of effective leadership.

5633 School Business Management

This course will look at the activities of a superintendent/business administrator in the day-to-day activities as they concern school finance. Information will be presented as a "nuts and bolts" approach and will include items such as the yearly estimate of needs, the formation of a budget, working with the auditors, and state certification requirements.

5643 School Legal Issues

This is the second law class for those interested in pursuing a standard superintendent certification. The class will review issues related to employee contracts and/or negotiations, school bond issues, state and federal requirements, and Supreme Court decisions that have affected education.

5703 School Personnel and Administration

Examination of the functions of school personnel are considered. Emphasis is also placed on recruitment, selection, and placement. Problems and techniques involved in the administration of public educational institutions. Pre: Permission of the Associate Dean of the School of Education.

5753 Principles of Public School Administration

Oklahoma School law; State Board of Education requirements; principles of public school finance; philosophy of administration; school organization; school policy development; school board relations; public relations; selection of teachers; utilization of school plant; school records and accounts; transportation; and school census will be discussed. Pre: Permission of the Associate Dean of the School of Education.

5763 Public School Finance

Sources of school finance, control of expenditure, general principles of financial administration. Pre: Permission of the Associate Dean of the School of Education.

5772 School and Public Relations

A detailed and comprehensive presentation of the methods and media for building and sustaining good public relations for public educational institutions. Also, the examination and development of effective communication techniques with emphasis directed towards teachers, students, and parents. Pre: Permission of Associate Dean of Education.

5782 Supervision of Teaching

Examination and development of skills in the use of effective practices in supervision, group processes, personnel administration, and evaluation of teachers. Pre: Permission of the Associate Dean of the School of Education.

5783 Implementing State and Federal Requirements

A study of the history of the federal and state governments' role in education; a study of current school laws, rules, regulations, and policies that affect the school; a study of educational trends that will be affected by pending or anticipated laws, rules, regulations, and policies. Pre: Permission of the Associate Dean of the School of Education.

5792 School Plant Design and Operation

A study of plant design and operation of school facilities. Coverage of the major steps necessary in the planning, selling, construction, and maintenance stages of a school facility program.

5812 Introduction to Guidance and Counseling

Understanding the philosophy, principles, and practices which are basic to a sound guidance program at the elementary and secondary school level, and an understanding of the supportive roles of teachers, administrators, and other personnel. Pre: Permission of the Associate Dean of the School of Education.

5822 Multicultural Education

An introduction to the development of required leadership philosophies and principles necessary in establishing multicultural education. This course will cover institutional and individual practices; a review of instruments for the evaluation of behaviors; and strategies for involvement in programs with public school systems.

5852 Developmental Guidance for School Counselors

The total guidance program desired for an elementary school is presented. The different services (testing, career education, counseling, etc.) are discussed and an individual plan is developed along with methods of implementation. Pre: Permission of Associate Dean of School of Education.

5903 Higher Education Philosophy and Practice

The focus of this course is the philosophy and practice of the colleges in America. It addresses higher education's historical roots and development, programs and services, finances and sources of support, governance, current issues affecting its role and mission, and how adult learning theory is reflected in these issues.

5913 The Learning College

This course examines pedagogical issues and learning strategies as they relate to adult learners in higher education. The focus addresses the creation of pedagogy for college courses that attends to the learning styles and characteristics of a diverse student population in the 21st Century. Specific issues covered include approaches to teaching underprepared students, using social media as a pedagogical tool, and embracing a service model of teaching that promotes student success. This course also reviews other popular pedagogical concepts and contemporary theories in teaching at the college level.

5923 Adult Cognitive Styles and Individual Differences

This course provides an overview of the different micro-cultures to which we belong. Students will become aware of cultural differences and inequalities in the nation and in the world. The course addresses issues of race, ethnicity, gender, class, language, religion, ability, and age, areas that allow some groups to have greater societal benefits than others. The primary goal is to help affirm cultural differences while realizing that individuals across cultures have many similarities.

5933 Classroom Research and Institutional Effectiveness

A systematic analysis of classroom and institutional problems, including the techniques of collection, interpretation of data, and the reporting of results. This course is designed to acquaint students with the methods and techniques associated with classroom research as well as the various types of research currently in use.

5943 Leadership in Adult Education Venues

The focus of this course is the concept of providing leadership in learning environments. The course defines leadership and studies the traits, styles, and approaches to leadership, and current issues in leadership. All of these areas are studied in the context of higher education.

5953 Institutional Management

The course examines the various aspects of managing institutions in general and higher education in particular. Emphasis is placed upon the structure and organization of institutions and their various components, including academics, human resources, student services, finances, planning, and institutional research.

ADDITIONAL COURSE OFFERINGS ~ ALL DEPARTMENTS

5170* Individual Study (1-4 hours)

Directed intensive study on selected problems or special subject, based on approved outline or plan; conference, oral, and written reports. Pre: 16 hours in chosen academic area. Offered by all departments.

5180* Seminar (1-4 hours)

Directed intensive study on selected problem or special topic. Pre: Permission of Department. Offered by all departments.

5190 Readings (1-3 hours)

Directed reading and discussion of selected current topics in appropriate academic area. Pre: Permission of chosen department. Offered by all departments.

5300* Short Course (Name of Short Course) (1-3 hours)

A course which is continuous in study for a limited duration. The intensive study presents special subjects and/or topics. Offered by all departments.

5330 Thesis (prefix to course number will depend on title of thesis) (1-6 hours)

A research report. Problem, outline, and report will be directed by the graduate thesis committee.

Courses using these numbers must be approved by the Graduate Committee prior to the semester they appear in the schedule.*

Courses using these numbers must be approved by a student's Graduate Advisory Committee in order to be eligible for a graduate plan of study.*

NOTES: